Simplified copyright compliance

All of the photos and illustrations from ReadyImages are licensed for use on campus, allowing staff and students to use images without the risks associated with using unlicensed photos off the Web.

ReadyImages was created by Copyright Clearance Center (CCC)—global rights broker for millions of the world's most sought-after materials, including books, eBooks, journals, newspapers, magazines, blogs and images. A not-for-profit organization, CCC has been serving the content licensing needs of colleges and universities for more than 30 years.
